

Driver Is Electrocuted; Eight Are Hospitalized

The Christmas week-end was marred here by the violent death of one motorist and the hospitalization of eight others.

Early Sunday morning George J. Resendes, 30, of Somerville, was electrocuted when he became entangled with live wires after the Chrysler sedan he was operating had knocked down an Edison light pole at the corner of Mill st. and Massachusetts ave.

Joseph Jordan, night custodian of the Town Hall, an eye witness, told the Advocate that after the auto had toppled, the pole over, sparks from the short-circuited wires began shooting up from the base of the pole under the rear of the car.

Tries To Beat Out Flames
The witness said he saw the driver get out from the driver's seat and run around to the rear. He said he shouted a warning but the victim "began trying to beat out the flames."

In the next instant he was on the ground with his head lodged against the rear bumper. His clothes burst into flames. He made no outcry. It was awful, the witness said. "I then called to occupants of a nearby house to notify the police and then rang in the fire alarm."

Shortly after arrival at the Symmes Hospital, the victim was pronounced dead by Dr. W. W. Harrington of Lexington.

Local Firm Buys "Brooklyn Bridge"

According to the Lowell (Mass.) Sun, a local tree and shrubbery firm found itself out on a limb in a "Brooklyn Bridge" deal. The following story hit Page One:

It seems the local concern has been seeking for some time a special tree for the estate of a prominent Massachusetts family. The proprietor finally spied a sap (ling) in Lowell which filled all requirements.

Contacting the resident in the adjacent house, the tree concern "bought" the tree.

RINDGE DOES FAVOR FOR LOCALS

Rindge Tech performed a great favor for the A.H.S. sextet Saturday by knocking off Newton, 2 to 0. The Tech's assist put the locals well on top of the G.B.I. heap.

Arlington chalked up its 4th straight win, downing winless Medford, 3 to 0.

The Red and Gray, with four wins, no losses or ties, is leading the league with 8 points. Tied in second place are Newton, Melrose and Stoneham with 5 points.

The pay-off punch can occur when Arlington faces the Garden City boys on Jan. 10 at the Arena. The locals have knocked all other clubs in the top bracket.

Four Straight
The locals have won four straight in the following order: Dec. 5, Stoneham, 3-0; Dec. 12, Melrose, 4-1; Dec. 19, Belmont, 2-1; Dec. 27, Medford, 3-0.

In the last game, Pitts shone in the nets while Cadigan put the Spy Ponders out in front in the first period. After a scoreless second stanza, Prindle and Weissback salted victory away in the 3rd.

After Newton on Jan. 10, Arlington faces Rindge (now in 6th place) and Cambridge Latin (7th).

THREE SCOUTS WIN EAGLE AWARD

The prime aim of all achievement in scouting is the Eagle Award and on Monday evening in the vestry of the Pleasant Street Congregational church, Troop 8 celebrated its Parents' Night observance with a "triple-header."

Stanley H. Masters of 18 Vendon rd., who was admitted to the Troop on his eleventh birthday, Feb. 11, 1951, qualified for his Eagle on Dec. 11, 1952, just twenty-two months after becoming a Boy Scout thereby notching the record as one of the coveted honor in Sachem Council, according to Scout leaders.

That he runs true to form and is upholding his end of a father and son combination is attested by the fact that he is the son of the troop's popular scoutmaster, Malcolm H. Masters, himself an Eagle with Silver Palms and the possessor of thirty-nine merit badges.

Richard Mardigan, who has served the Troop as Scribe, Senior Patrol Leader and as Junior Assistant Scoutmaster and who served at the Heights Reservoir last summer as an assistant life guard is the second winner of the Eagle award.

Bill Squires, Arlington's sensational mile runner, is the third recipient of the award. Officials commend him for the patience and perseverance it took to win the Eagle amid the demands of his athletic activities.

Dr. Ralph B. Lancaster, vice-president of Sachem Council and former Troop 8 committee chairman, made the Eagle awards.

Following the opening ceremonies, including a first aid contest, a Tenderfoot Ceremony was held in which Scoutmaster Malcolm H. Masters made the awards to Tenderfoot, Scouts Edward Baxter and Souran Der Ananian.

Second Class awards were made by Professor Marshall Newton, the Troop's camping counselor, to Lawrence Fritz and Peter Cleveland. Former Troop Committee Chairman William R. Berg made the First Class award to Scout Arnold Bradford and then followed Life Scout awards to Lane Porter and John Young.

Troop Committee Chairman W. L. Gilbert welcomed the parents in a brief talk.

CANDIDATE for Board of Assessors is George M. Manning of 145 Gray st. He is the son of Luke Manning, local politician.

Sorry!

Last Wednesday the usually faithful newspaper press of the Advocate broke down toward the end of the run.

While most subscribers received their copies, we were unable to fulfill requirements for the newstands and out-of-town mail until Saturday.

—The Management.

SELECTIONS worked four hours on the Town Manager's budget Monday night. It next will be submitted to the Finance Committee.

Doyle Will File Vs. Ruling By Town Counsel

Atty. James C. Doyle will seek a "declaratory judgment" from the courts in an effort to set aside the recent ruling by Town Counsel Russell T. Hamlet that Town Meeting members are town officers and, therefore, cannot hold other office under the Town Manager act.

Doyle told the Advocate that his petition will be filed by next Monday or Tuesday and that, since Hamlet had agreed to accept service, the petition "would be marked for hearing shortly."

In the meantime, Doyle advised town officers who wished to run for TM member to file by the deadline date anyway.

Doyle defined a "declaratory judgment" as a provision of law, asking for an interpretation of a statute.

Rumors around town this week had it that the matter was being dropped. Thus, Doyle's statement makes the matter very much alive again.

It is known that three members of the Finance Committee have already written Town Clerk Golden that they will seek reelection as TM members. They are Chairman J. Howard Hayes, John N. Loud and Edwin A. Barnstead.

Hamlet's ruling, if upheld, will prevent these three as well as other Town officers from serving on the Town Meeting floor.

Attorney "Shocked" At Board's Denial

As the result of the denial of a lodging house license by the Selectmen, the proprietor of the proposed nursing home on Park ave. has petitioned, through his attorney, a hearing before the Board, the Advocate learned yesterday.

George Farnum, attorney for Nino, Alessandrini, proprietor, told the Advocate that he failed to see why the Selectmen refused in view of the fact that the Zoning Board had given approval and that Mr. Alessandrini already held a lodging license for his nursing home on Lake st. here.

"The Selectmen had given us no intimation of their action," Atty. Farnum said, "nor have they given us any reason for refusal. We thought it would be granted as a mere formality. We were shocked."

"In my belief, it is a shocking miscarriage of justice and I hope the Selectmen will grant us a hearing to iron out the matter."

When asked whether his client, Alessandrini, would seek recourse to State authorities or the courts, Farnum replied that he felt that the matter could be settled reasonably at the local level.

Farnum stated that lodging house licenses were required in only two other communities in the State—Haverhill and Brookline.

"My client went through 100 per cent on all regulations when he established the Lake street home. Arlington doctors want such homes. They know the great need," Farnum said.

Legion Committee Seeks Curfew

Massachusetts should have a curfew for teenagers.

That is the opinion of The American Legion Child Welfare Co-ordinating Committee for the Department of Massachusetts. After studying the question of a state-wide curfew over a period of several months, it was the unanimous conclusion that a curfew was needed. While the survey showed that some communities were not interested in such a plan, many others showed unusual interest.

"We want everyone who is interested in child welfare to know that there is such an organization as The American Legion with its co-ordinating bodies, who are interested in the youth of our state," commented Norma C. McKillop of Lynnfield, chairman of the committee.

Continuing she said, "we are going to discuss the problem further with the Massachusetts Police Chiefs Association and other law enforcement agencies."

One-Way Traffic On Warren St., Davis Rd.

Formal approval of one-way traffic on Franklin st., from Warren st. to Broadway and on Davis rd. from Paul Revere rd. to Massachusetts ave. has been received from the State Department of Public Works.

The Board of Selectmen voted that these streets be made one-way in these sections at their Nov. 24 meeting.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS and ladies' night of the Arlington Kiwanis Club will be held Wednesday evening, Jan. 14, at the 1775 House, Lexington. Fred Crawford is in charge of the ticket reservations.

JOIN THE MARCH OF DIMES

Arlington's Polio youth, Jerry Carroll of 152 Gardner st., smiles happily while receiving the official proclamation for the March of Dimes Campaign from Edmund L. Frost, Chairman of the Board of Selectmen, as March of Dimes Chairman Donald Bresnan beams. The drive starts Friday.

The 1953 March of Dimes will get underway with an intensive campaign to raise funds for Arlington polio victims on Friday and will continue for the rest of the month under the leadership of Donald F. Bresnan, local volunteer, chairman. Headquarters will be opened today at 799 Massachusetts ave.

The local organization has formed committees to conduct the most complete campaign ever put on in Arlington, officials say. With the objective of keeping Arlington on a "pay as you go" basis so that every patient may be assured care and treatment immediately upon affliction with the dread disease of infantile paralysis.

The Auxiliary Police Association is providing many of the volunteers to conduct the drive as they have in past years.

George Burns and Gracie Allen have triple cause for celebrating this year: the beloved pair toast their 29th year as a comedy team and the third for their hilarious CBS-TV "George Burns and Gracie Allen Show." And best of all, on Jan. 7 they celebrate their 26th wedding anniversary.

The B. F. Goodrich Co. and The Carnation Co. are alternate sponsors for the "George Burns and Gracie Allen Show."

Beautiful Barbara Britton, who plays Pam, the distaff side of the amateur sleuthing team on CBS-TV's "Mr. and Mrs. North," makes a lovely holiday package indeed.

Editor, Arlington Advocate
Dear Sir:

In last week's issue of the Advocate you stated that Hugh Mallon Jr. was running against me for Trustee of the Robbins Library. Mr. Mallon is a candidate for the place vacated by my esteemed colleague, Francis Keefe, who has chosen not to run.

I hope the decision of Hugh Mallon Jr. to seek this position is as pleasing to others as it is to me.

In my opinion he is the type of young man Arlington needs in public office. After graduation from Notre Dame in 1942, he served with the Amphibious Forces of the U. S. Navy as a lieutenant in both the Atlantic and Pacific theatres. While he now resides in Precinct 1, he was formerly a very sound town meeting member from Precinct 6.

He is a special agent for the U. S. Fidelity & Guaranty Co., and lives with his wife, Geraldine, and their three children, Barbara, Hugh and Christine at 39 Fremont st.

For your further information I am a candidate for reelection to the Library Board and not to any other office.

Yours very truly,
Roscoe O. Elliott

VOTES FOR RUSSELL PLAN

Arlington Advocate
Here is another vote for using the Russell School property as a shopping centre. Only here, in the center of high land values, we must resort to increased vertical construction with less land coverage to insure a greater parking area and to prevent rents being prohibitive.

The Arlington Advocate has proposed a most constructive course of action for improving Arlington Center. Citizens and Merchants alike should enthusiastically support this opportunity of a century.

Sincerely,
Robert H. Zwicker

Classes In Home Care To Start January 6

Beginning Tuesday, Jan. 6, Red Cross classes in home care of the sick will meet Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 7:30 to 9:50 p.m. for three weeks at the Hardy School.

More than half the people in the United States are sick at least once a year, officials say. Of these only 10 per cent were hospitalized. That means that 90 per cent of the ill persons must receive care at home and a large portion of the 10 per cent require convalescent care, it is said.

Mothers and homemakers want to wage the fight against that feeling of helplessness and futility when these emergencies arise. Their weapon will be "know-how."

Inquiries or registration can be made with Mrs. Beatrice Rogers, 3 Freeman st.

Christmas Recital

The Arlington Academy of Music held its annual children's Christmas party combined with a short recital Tuesday evening, Dec. 16 with a capacity audience. Amid festive decorations, the children enjoyed a grab bag, ice cream and candy and everyone had an enjoyable evening.

The recital opened with timely selections by the Junior Orchestra under the baton of Frank E. Ward, followed by instrumental and vocal selections and closed with the Junior Chorus. A tape recording was taken of the recital and played back during refreshments to climax a pleasurable evening.

Arlington children participating were Joan Davison, Charles Vendice, Joan Wyman, Walter Worth, Kenneth Sharkey, Alice Dimirjian, James Aldrich, Patricia Cobuzzi, Douglas Parker, Ronald Guerrieri, Barbara Austin, Mary Margaret Ahearn, Kathleen Fitzgerald and Richard White.

Two Marines Promoted

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (By Mail) — Marine Private First Class Arthur E. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Smith, 16 Melrose st., recently completed his recruit training here at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot by receiving a promotion to his present rank.

Another Arlington Marine also received a promotion to Private First Class. He is John Robbio, son of Mr. John Robbio of 28 Magnolia st.

Marine Robbio also won the silver badge for marksmanship, using a Garand rifle.

85 Out of Every 100 Children Living Today Would Have Died in 1900

Today's death rate among children under 15 is less than one-sixth that of fifty years ago. And tomorrow's generation can expect to enjoy life for 18 years more than its grandfathers.

These statistics reflect progress on many fronts, but most of all they reflect the amazing advance in medical science and its many ramifications.

For medicine today is more than just the healing art. It's a vast cooperative effort which involves an army of research workers in the laboratory and clinic, the pharmaceutical manufacturers in their glistening modern plants, nurses and technicians in the hospitals, and of course the practicing physician who mobilizes all the knowledge and facilities of modern medical science for you and your family's welfare.

In our role of filling your doctor's prescriptions, and providing him with information on specialized pharmaceutical matters, we too are proud to be on the team.

O'NEILL FILES ONE-YEAR TERM FOR SELECTMAN

Former chairman of the Board of Public Works, Thomas J. O'Neill, today formally announced his candidacy for the one year term as a member of the Board of Selectmen in the coming March election.

O'Neill, who has served on the Board of Public Works for the past six years and was its Chairman in 1948, 1949 and 1951, in his statement spoke of the value of having an experienced Public Works official on the new Board of Selectmen.

"The new Town Manager will need an experienced Public Works official to give him background on this department," O'Neill stated in his announcement. "I feel I am the most qualified and experienced candidate for this important task."

O'Neill went on to list various improvements and financial savings which he said he had worked for during his years of public service. Among these are the use of the Summer st. Mill Brook area for dumping purposes, eventually making valuable land out of swamp area, he stated; the use of Town Labor for street, sidewalk and curbstone construction, which he claimed lowered the costs to the abutters and taxpayers; the widening and resurfacing of Lake st., Broadway and Massachusetts ave.; and the loaning of equipment to other Town departments, thereby lowering operating costs and building up a spirit of cooperation among all departments.

FEW realize that the Public Works Dept. employs the services of Weather Advisors. In addition to the obvious value in predicting snow storms, officials claim the service is valuable in warmer weather when street surfaces are being laid. Secretary to the Board, Warren O'Leary, said, "We have found their predictions right on the nose." The service costs $214 annually.

INDOOR golf instruction sponsored by the Park Dept. will begin in the middle of January. Johnny Thoren, noted professional, will teach. Six lessons will cost $2.75. Call Park Dept. for registration details.

MARCH OF DIMES DRIVE

on Friday and Saturday of this week from 1 to 9 p.m. to fold letters and other work. The telephone number is AR 5-1011.

While no quota exists in a March of Dimes drive, the local committee hopes to raise enough so that it would not be necessary to borrow from other more generous communities to care for Arlington's victims which has been done too frequently in the past," according to reports from headquarters.

Twenty-one local residents received help from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in 1952 and over $6300 was spent in the first 10 months. Seventeen of these were children. Several cases ran well into the thousands of dollars and will go on for many years.

Chairman Bresnan reminded local residents that polio is the only epidemic disease still on the increase in America.

"Funds must be provided for research as well as patient care if the disease is to be controlled," he said.

Jordan also said that Sgt. James Ryan and Patrolman James Lyons displayed heroism in pulling the man away from the wires on arrival.

Sgt. Ryan said simply, "It was my duty. I grabbed him by his shoes. We could not wait for more cautious procedure."

The police said the victim was horribly scared. It was some time before the dead man was identified. Papers in his pocket helped in the process. Final identification was made by a brother, Roy Resendes of Billerica.

On Christmas Day Three local residents, passengers in a Plymouth sedan, which police say was operated by George H. Jean of Cambridge, were taken to Symmes Hospital early in the morning on Christmas Day. The car struck a tree in front of 149 Pleasant st., near Irving st.

Besides Jean, who suffered facial cuts and bruises, police say other injured were Robert Virtue, 20, of 100 Hibbert st., with a cut on the head; Sylvia Grosso, 30, also of 100 Hibbert st., with multiple bruises; Ann Marcin, 18, of 10 Pine court, with possible spinal injury. All four were taken to Symmes.

Three more local residents were treated at Symmes Hospital on Friday when the Mercury station wagon in which they were riding was in collision with a truck on Massachusetts ave.

Injured were Reginald Wood, 24, the driver, of 37 Menotomy rd.; Allen Wood, 18, same address; and Patricia Wood, 18, of 41 Grant st., Lexington.

As a result of an alleged fight at the Monarch Diner at 2:45 a.m. Wednesday morning, a local man was treated at Symmes for a cut on his head. The injured man is George Duston, 21, of Boston.

Police report Duston as saying that he became involved in an argument with Christopher Kelleher, 37, of 45 Pine st., this town.

Later Duston refused to register any complaint against Kelleher.

On Christmas Day a 90-year-old man, James F. Babb of 15 Field rd., was taken to Symmes after police forced entrance into his home to find him injured from a fall.

At about 6:30 p.m. the elderly man's son, George E. Babb, said that he had rung the doorbell at his father's house and that he believed his father had fallen while coming to answer the ring. Mr. Babb, senior, was found to have suffered a severe laceration on the forehead as the result of his fall.

A LOOK BACKWARD

Last year at this time, the Advocate took a look into the future in a year-end editorial. It is quite interesting to take a backward look now and see what has been accomplished.

A year ago the Advocate said, "In looking to the year 1952, we would like to see the following:—

[Comments as to the present day status appear in italics—Ed.]

1) A more efficient local government through a town manager or some other centralized authority. [Town Manager Plan will go into effect next March. The Plan was strongly supported by this paper.]

2) Greater support of the Finance Committee recommendations at the annual Town Meeting. [Whether any progress was made here is a matter of opinion. Many feel that the Finance Committee personnel is not a true cross section of the town's residents, therefore, cannot enjoy automatic support.]

3) Diminution of sectionalism at Town Meeting. [Perhaps yes, mostly no.]

4) More information to the public by committees and boards. [Marked progress was made, we feel, so that now we are at about the half-way mark.]

5) Larger turnout of the intelligent and thinking voter at Town elections. [In March, 1952, 24 per cent turned out. Not good, but better than many previous years.]

6) Means of providing election returns which would help arouse interest. [Fullest cooperation by officials has enabled this paper to provide returns via direct wire to the Town Hall.]

7) At least two "open" meetings per year of the School Committee. [Still waiting!]

8) Continuing this year's (1951) start of having the Brownies deliver baskets to homes on May Day. [Was done.]

9) A resident physician at Symmes Hospital before a real tragedy occurs. [Done!! However, for adequate service two are necessary. There is no protection now while the present doctor is away, of duty.]

10) Steps taken for re-assessment of real estate in the town. [Not done. Perhaps the Town Manager will so order. Many firmly believe local assessments are "fair"; just as many feel there is a tremendous loss of potential revenue.]

11) A steadfast policy as to pay schedule for Town Employees. [St. Paul Plan of cost of living graduation now in effect. How steadfast it will be remains to be seen.]

12) Above all—may Peace come, so that our people may lead normal lives. [We regretfully must repeat that prayer.]

An optimistic view at the score board shows six aims were accomplished, on three progress was made and failure experienced on three.

INTERESTING FIGURES

For those that think that town and city manager plans, now in effect, are minuscule, we offer the following statistics as published in an editorial by the Free Press, an independent newspaper in Burlington, Vt., with a circulation of over 25,000:

—There are 1,124 towns, cities and counties with a city manager form of government in the United States and Canada.

—Nine recent additions to this group are Santa Ana Calif., population 45,000; Evanston, Ill., 73,000; Oak Park, Ill., 63,000; Arlington, Mass., 44,000 (nearly 47,000—Ed.); Westchester, Ill., 4,000; Hopkinsville, Ky., 12,526; Wood River, Ill., 10,000; Bemidji, Minn., 10,000; Tacoma, Wash., 143,000.

—More than one-third of all cities in the United States over 25,000 population have manager form of government.

—There are more council-city manager cities than mayor-council type in the 50,000 to 100,000 population group, and also in the 250,000 to 500,000 group.

The above seems to indicate, unless many communities are dead wrong, that our town made a proper move in November.

Further, with the competition for an outstanding manager so great, we must aim our sights high as to annual remuneration for a good man—the crux of successful operation of the plan.

WHILE many of the town's residents were thinking of bed or, perhaps indulging in year-end festivities, we would like to record that the Town Hall was ablaze with lights Monday night. In action—working for you—were conferences by the Selectmen, Board of Public Works, Assessors, the Town Clerk and Finance Committee (and undoubtedly other committees and boards). For you, we say "thanks."

STUDENT COUNCIL

Arlington High School

You should take some action to stop the ungentlemanly actions of students that take place on the MTA cars.

The yelling, pushing, smoking and opening of windows should be stopped by disciplinary action, stemming from students themselves rather than local officials.

IN 1877—

75 Years Ago This Week

At the residence of Mr. Charles Schwamb a large party engaged in a game of croquet on the lawn—an event worthy of mention at this season of the year.

The most serious conflagration which has visited Arlington for a long time, occurred last Monday morning resulting in the entire destruction of the well known Spy Pond House. The scratching of their little dog at the bed room door roused the proprietor, Mr. Steinkraus and his wife, to discover the fire.

Special Christmas entertainment for the children was held at the Orthodox Church on Monday, the Baptist Church on Tuesday, and the Universalist Church on Christmas Eve.

IN 1902

50 Years Ago This Week

Our local leaders report a successful Christmas week.

Some handsome new cars, larger than the usual size, have recently gone into commission on the Arlington and Winchester branch of the Boston and North-st. Ry. Co.

The annual New Year party of the Unitarian Church will be held Jan. 2. The children will assemble at four o'clock for a romp in the large vestry. Supper will be served at six, followed by a stereopticon exhibition.

IN 1927

25 Years Ago This Week

Three hundred and fifty children gathered at the Middlesex Sportsman's Clubhouse shouted "Merry Christmas, Nap Hardy" with such volume that through a telephone it reached the ears of N. J. Hardy, convalescing at home from an operation. In previous years Mr. Hardy had taken an active part in the annual Christmas party.

George E. C. Rugg spoke to the Rotary Club and told how a reporter covers a story. He is feature editor of the Boston Traveler.

After Jan. 1 all taxes in Arlington must have meters. The rate is 15 cents for the first sixth of a mile and five cents for each sixth thereafter.

Gideon, a Man of Faith and Humility.

Lesson: 17, 25-31; 8: 32-23.

Golden Text: Psalm 127: 12.

Some years after the struggle with the Canaanites, the Israelites had to meet a great danger from the east, from a different race of people. They were the Midianites, a nomadic people dwelling in wide regions of barren country where they subsisted only by flocks and herds.

Because of the relapse of the Israelites into idolatry and great wickedness, the Midianites were for seven years allowed to oppress the people. Then God called the mighty Gideon and he blew a trumpet and summoned his people to battle. The first exploit was to cut down the grove of Baal near his home. He then made ready to attack the enemy. In more than one expedition, he reduced the number in his army and then, with magnificent disdain of the larger number of the Midianites, who were encamped in a valley, feasting and revelling, Gideon sent a great part of his army back to their homes.

As the night drew on, and the marauders settled down for a drunken sleep, Gideon and his men burst upon the camp with the lights suddenly displayed and a great shout that brought terror to the hearts of the Midianites. "The sword of the Lord and of Gideon." The Midianites were turned into a great rout and practically all the booty was recovered.

Town Census Taking Begins Next Week

The annual census taking for the town "True List for 1952" will start next Monday, Jan. 5.

Temporary "assistant registrars" will visit every residence in the town to learn the name, age, occupation, nationality, and residence in the preceding and current year of every person twenty years of age or older residing in Arlington. The board of registrars emphasizes that this includes those serving in the armed forces even if they are not at home at present.

The registrars are appealing to residents who expect to be away from home to leave this information for the registrar when he calls or to fill out promptly the notice that will be left at the door.

Ground, by Andrew Garve, pseud. This skillfully woven suspense story is based on the dangerous exploration of an underground cave.

The Friendly Smirk

HERE IN BRIEF is a practice that it will benefit every one of us to apply. Frances Marjory Seeley, 12 Depot Street, Middletown, New York, says she decided to practice smiling for one week and pote the results.

Tuesday, Election Day, she smiled and greeted all those she knew and called them by name—the mailman, the watchers of the election board.

The next day she was called in to help out at a Rummage Sale. As this was her day off and no work, she did not relish the idea, but thought it a good way to put over some of her theories. In charge of socks, shirts and pants, she demonstrated the goods at low prices. A good business resulted.

Wednesday, it rained all day but she went to work with renewed determination to keep smiling. She asked the other girls to help her out with smiling.

Thursday, after work, she had a choir rehearsal, and put more vim and vigor into singing by really opening her mouth and smiling.

Friday, she attended a committee meeting now and then, connected with her church. For once she did not sit and listen but questioned and suggested a few ideas for the Christmas Party. And she kept on smiling.

Saturday, when she totaled up the score, she found the week had fairly flown. The sales at the store showed a good increase over the last year, due, she believes, to a pleasant and smiling attitude.

Line That Isn't There Gives North America a Third Coast

ACROSS the breadth of North America runs an invisible line. Its ends dip into Atlantic and Pacific. It ties two nations together, mixes up their geography, and gives the continent a "third coast."

The line is Uncle Sam's 3,986-mile international boundary with Canada.

Usually thought of as a land frontier, actually the Canadian border is wetter than it is dry, the National Geographic Society says. Winding from Grand Manan Channel off the coast of Maine to the straits south of Vancouver Island, the line crosses 2,198 miles of water to only 1,788 miles of dry land.

Since the American Revolution this boundary, drawn originally through unsettled wilderness, has never brought an appeal to force. It stands today as the longest unfortified frontier in the world.

At the eastern end of the line, however, a little-remembered dispute nearly precipitated a war with Great Britain in 1839. The issue was the "St. Croix River" specified in the original border treaty. Partisans claimed different rivers were the St. Croix.

Acadian axemen crossed over into Maine to chop its towering pines, and New Brunswick tried to collect taxes from the territory. Maine marched 17 companies of militia north through deep snow to stand glowering guard over its rights.

This bloodless "Aroostook War" was settled finally by compromise in 1842's Webster-Ashburton Treaty. Later, it was revealed that the United States held two maps backing up Britain's claims to Maine territory, and the British Foreign Office had a secret map proving Maine's claim to 5,500 square miles of New Brunswick.

As it was drawn, the compromise line makes a cape named West Quoddy Head the easternmost point of land in the United States. Maine's northernmost town, still called Township 20, can be reached by road only by way of Canada, and includes houses split through the front parlor by the boundary.

Because Benjamin Franklin, John Jay, and John Adams didn't know where the Mississippi River began, there is a 130-square-mile chunk of U. S. territory north of Minnesota's mainland that is completely surrounded by water and Canada. This "Northwest Angle," hitched to Manitoba, is cut off from the rest of Minnesota by waters of the Lake of the Woods.

THIS WEEK IN Washington

ARTICLE XIV of the Bill of Rights states: "No state shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty or property without due process of law; nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

This article has not always been upheld in our nation but the following victories were achieved in 1952 by the opponents of discrimination and segregation:

A Federal Court jury convicted three police officers, including the police chief, of conspiracy to deny Harvey E. Clark, Jr. his civil rights in the Cicero, Illinois incident in which Clark was denied protection of the law because he was a Negro attempting to move into a largely hostile white neighborhood. Rioting broke out. Maximum sentences under the Civil Rights Law were recommended.

After informal intervention by the president of the New York City Council, the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company agreed to drop eviction proceedings against 19 families in its giant Stuyvesant Town and Peter Cooper housing projects who had been active in the fight to permit Negroes as tenants in the developments. The insurance company also agreed to stop discrimination against Negro applicants for tenancy.

In spite of violence and threats in Cairo, Illinois, the transfer of Negro children to previously all-white schools was successfully completed. The transfer was prompted by the threat of withdrawal of state funds from the local school system in segregation—outlawed by a 1941 state law—continued. After initial violence against the Negro community, including bombings,

FAVORITE RECIPES IN LOCAL KITCHENS

Mrs. John Lydon of 170 Broadway supplies this week's favorite recipe, a tomato aspic which can be developed into a main dish for a simple luncheon.

TOMATO ASPIC
1 medium can of tomatoes
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup vinegar
1 bay leaf
1 medium sized onion
1/2 teaspoon mustard
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 envelope of Knox gelatin

Put onion through meat chopper. Combine all ingredients except gelatin and simmer for five minutes, stirring occasionally with a fork to break the tomatoes. Remove bay leaf. Add the gelatin which has been softened in a little cold water. Let set in six small molds.

For a heartier salad which can be used as a main dish, Mrs. Lydon doubles the recipe and pours it into a ring mold, and after it has begun to set adds halves of hard boiled or devilled eggs and stuffed olives.

That Man About Town

By MAT

On the day following New Year's Day, the local March of Dimes campaign will be launched. We can suggest few better resolutions than — give! Be sure and read in this paper how twenty-one local cases have been helped in the first ten months of this year.

We plan to be one of the first in line to visit the "open house" on New Year's Day at the East Arlington Branch Library. Congratulations to all concerned from its start as a "gleam in the eye" to fulfillment of the idea.

When, oh when, will individuals (multiplied into groups) learn that Arlington is not a "slate" town. We refer to politics. Where real issues were involved, seldom has the Town bought any entire slate put up by local politicians — whether stemming from Republicans, Democrats or section.

Permit us to wish you a very Happy New Year and to point out that Peace can come only through the combined daily prayer of us all.

[The opinions of MAT do not necessarily coincide and often do not, with ours—Ed.]

Site Suggested By Advocate For New Russell School Building

BY STANDING at suggested site, the cameraman, by facing south, shows Cemetery road (an unfinished street which runs off Chestnut st.) and part of the existing playground equipment. At left St. Agnes Church towers above residences on Chestnut st. In the center background is the old Russell school and the Russell playground which was left the town as a public "common." It contains two acres of land. At right is Chestnut hall. The "common" could be converted to a parking area.

SWINGING CAMERA about 90 degrees to left, this easterly view shows part of the Cemetery playground, already established, which could be used for play area if the new Russell school were built in this proposed location. Note entrance, already in existence, in the background just to the right of slide. In left background is part of Mt. Pleasant Cemetery which borders Medford st. The first roadway into the cemetery, top, could be used as an entrance to the school.

CHURCHES OF CHRIST SCIENTIST

God's readiness and availability to sustain and heal those who rely on Him will be brought out in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "God" to be heard at Christian Science services Sunday.

Bible citations will include general proofs of this by the prophet Elijah. He raised from the dead the son of the widow of Zarephath. "And the woman said to Elijah, Now by this I know that thou art a man of God, and that the word of the Lord in thy mouth is truth." (1 Kings 17:24).

One passage to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy is: "To have one God and avail yourself of the power of Spirit, you must love God supremely."
The Golden Text is from Isaiah (45:22): "Look unto me, and be ye saved, all the ends of the earth: for I am God, and there is none else."

Minister Explains Meaning Of Communion To The Universalists

The service, Sunday morning at the Universalist Church, conducted by the pastor, the Rev. George J. W. Pennington, was that of communion.
The minister emphasized the stemming of the service from the traditional Last Supper, and how that latter occasion was both a beginning and an end for Jesus, as communion was Sunday for Universalists, bringing to a close one year, and opening on another.
The Rev. Mr. Pennington said that the service of communion was not a sacrament for Universalists, but rather a time of consecration in which communions were called to make their every day more sacramental.
"All who come to reflect on their situation, and resolve to make their lives expressive of what seems to them noblest and true are invited to share in the observing of communion whenever observed in this liberal church," the pastor said, "and none are excluded due to lack of membership or any other cause."
Infant christening and parent dedication were observed.
Next Sunday, Mr. Pennington will deliver a sermon entitled, "The Religious News of 1952," a report to the people of significant developments in the world of organized religion during the past year.

THE MTA will operate 10-minute train service on the rapid transit lines all night on New Year's Eve and early New Year's morning and will operate surface car, bus and trackless trolley service along the regular daytime routes.

THE DE MOLAY New Year's Party will be held tonight, Dec. 31 in the parish hall of the Park Avenue Congregational Church.
